Career Interests and Education Choices: It's My Plan!

Through self-assessment activities, students will learn about their interests, personalities, and skills and how to match those characteristics to career options. Activities guide students to explore different college and career training choices and create a timeline for postsecondary planning. The lessons are further enhanced with signed video clips. At the conclusion of each lesson, a personalized summary is generated and can be used in transition planning.

First Year College Success: Be the One!

Students will experience a four-day “campus orientation” at fictional State College. They will visit different buildings and services on campus and complete a variety of activities. As they explore the campus, they will learn more about the expectations and challenges of college life.

iTransition includes four separate trainings with activities to help students learn more about themselves, their career goals, and the skills they need to be successful in the future.

Teacher guides and support materials are available on the PEPNet website:

Essential Skills for College Living: It's My Life!

Using three student guides as examples, students will improve skills in time management, studying, goal setting, and working with postsecondary disability service providers. Examples of deaf or hard of hearing students in different types of college settings demonstrate diverse ways to solve problems, identify resources, and strategize for success in college.

eFolio: My Online Portfolio!

Students can register here for a free online portfolio. They will use their eFolio site to keep track of career goals and interests, school and community activities, skills, resumés, and college planning. This dynamic tool also allows students to add documents, images, audio, video, and links, to enhance their online transition plan.
