What is Adobe Connect?

A web-based synchronous communication tool that allows users to quickly and easily share their presentations, desktop content and other materials with one another over the Internet.

Why Use Adobe Connect?

- Functionality
  - A wide variety of “pods” makes Connect a multi-purpose tool
- Ease of Use
  - Low learning curve means up and running quickly
  - Faculty can use their own computer - no fancy equipment or special classroom required
  - Flash based - no need for software downloads
- Cost
  - Web conferencing systems typically provide a lower cost solution for synchronous communication than video conferencing

Basic Meeting Room Layout

The screenshot displays the RIT Meeting software interface. On the left side, there are four panels: 'Camera and Voice' (containing a camera and microphone icon), 'Attendee List (1)' (showing 'My Status: Active' and 'Jessica Hooper'), 'Chat' (with a text input field and 'To: Everyone'), and 'Note' (with a text input field). The main area is a 'Share' window with the text 'What do you want to share?' and three options: 'My Computer Screen...', 'Documents', and 'Whiteboards'. A blue arrow labeled 'Share' points to the right side of the main area. At the bottom, there is a status bar with icons for 'Talk', 'Sharing', 'Discussion', and 'Collaboration'.

Faculty Lectures

The slide is titled "Significance of the Palimpsest" and is subtitled "Very Important to History of Science and Mathematics". It features a collage of images related to palimpsests and their discovery. On the left, there is a small video window showing a man speaking. Below the title, several images are displayed: a cover of "PHYSICS TODAY" magazine from June 2000; a page from "THE SUNDAY TIMES MAGAZINE" dated September 30, 2003; a "NOVA" television program cover titled "infinite secrets" from June 17, 2001; and a book cover titled "The works of Archimedes" from 2004. The background of the slide is a light beige color with a faint grid pattern.

Student Teams

The screenshot displays a Zoom meeting interface with several panels:

- Participant List (Top Left): Lists participants including 'Guest User (Online Learning)'.
- Video Grid (Top Center): Shows a grid of six student participants in a video call.
- Chat Window (Bottom Left): Contains a welcome message and a list of questions:
  - Emergency contact?
  - We will provide a follow up email with the team's contact information.
  - Registration form?
  - Tuition structure?
  - Fees?
  - Director's form to participate forms?
  - Names of trade publications?
  - Important Twitter?
  - What to do next?
  - Thank you for attending the previous afternoon! We found it very useful and have several more questions we would like to ask.
  - Average earnings of dentist?
  - Do they work in groups?
  - Typical number of visits?
  - How do they travel?
  - Typical age range of dentist?
- Chat Window (Bottom Center): Contains a list of tasks:
  - 1. Contact competitors to identify features
  - 2. Cap analysis (compare competitor features to value add)
  - 3. Segment targets - The local project
  - 4. Identify Positioning Statement (4th week 22)
  - 5. Parent Interviews

Student Presentations

Guest Speakers

The screenshot shows a Zoom meeting interface. At the top left is the logo for the American College of Management and Technology. At the top right is the R·I·T logo. The main video area is split into two windows: one showing a group of people in a meeting room and another showing a close-up of a smiling woman wearing a headset. On the left side, there is a chat window with the following text:

Marybeth Wood: Can you hear video?
 Dawn Telleam: yep, I can hear you
 Dawn Telleam: and see you
 Dawn Telleam: I don't turn on audio and video yet
 Dawn Telleam: ok
 Dawn Telleam: is it ok to present the items on I am big or with ongoing research and research
 Dawn Telleam: ok
 Dawn Telleam: that is not possible for me
 Dawn Telleam: applying to help
 Dawn Telleam: no problem

Software Demonstrations

The screenshot displays an online learning session interface with three main sections:

- Camera and Voice: Shows a video feed of two participants, Phil Batchelor and Richard Fasse, in a virtual meeting environment.
- Chat: A text-based chat window on the left side of the interface. It contains the following messages:
  - hear you
  - Phil Batchelor: I can hear you now
  - Phil Batchelor: I used LOR before, seemed like I had to change every item in the 'bundle'. Can I change 1 at a time?
  - Phil Batchelor: OK
  - Richard Fasse: Sounds good to me
- Share - Online Learning: A central window displaying a course management page titled "myCourses Demo". The page shows a list of course items with columns for course name, status, and actions. The items include:

Accessibility in Adobe Connect

- Text chat for easy communication
- Real-time captioning
- Captioned videos
- ASL video in camera pod
- Speech to text - Dragon Naturally Speaking

Best Practices

- Start out simple
- Practice with the technology before your live event
- Create a checklist for the day of your live event
- Factor in setup time – we suggest 30 minutes
- Orient your students to Adobe Connect early
- Acknowledge remote students
- Establish ground rules for communication
- Keep your students engaged
- Avoid unnecessary distractions
- Plan student activities wisely with technology considerations in mind
- Record your sessions
- Have a backup plan
